

COMMISSION IS ASKED TO HELP ERIN MOVEMENT

Local Body Petitioned For Resolution Urging Recognition Irish Republic

ACTION IS DEFERRED

Petition Signed by People Living Below Tracks Asks Garbage Be Hauled

The city commission is asked by the Bismarck branch of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic to adopt a resolution asking President Harding to recognize the republic.

The request was presented by spokesmen for the organization last night. The commission deferred action until next Monday night, after J. A. Roberts and P. E. Byrne had spoken and presented the resolution and Commissioner Harry A. Thompson introduced it and moved its adoption.

Commissioner John A. Larson asked the spokesmen what other cities were doing about such a resolution and suggested the commission ought to find out. Mr. Roberts said that Bismarck was one of the first cities receiving the resolution but that it would be presented to city councils and commissions in practically every city having over 5,000 inhabitants in states where the legislatures had not acted.

Explains Association. Mr. Roberts spoke of the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic, declaring "its methods are as American as any organization can be" and said that the United States had recognized 14 republics, chiefly South American republics, before the people had won their independence from their government. P. E. Byrne said that it was desired that the president know what the sentiment of the country is, through the various governing bodies of cities and states.

Mr. Roberts said that P. D. Norton, of Mandan, who made a trip to Ireland, about two years ago, would speak to the members of the association Thursday night in Legion hall and invited the commission members to be present. Mayor Lenhart suggested that the matter was one of importance and asked if there were objection to deferring action until next week. Mr. Roberts said he would be glad if the commission would do this, in the meantime ascertaining the public sentiment.

Ask Ashes Hauled. A petition signed by 100 citizens living south of the tracks was presented to the commission requesting "that the party having contracted with the city to haul refuse and garbage be directed to do so regularly in that part of the city."

On motion of Commissioner Hensler the commission decided to send Chief of Police Martinson, to a St. Louis convention of police chiefs. Commissioner Thompson objected on the ground that the city should economize as much as possible.

A letter was received from the railroad commission, answering a request of the commission for a test of the quality of gas, stating that the commission would have its chief engineer make an investigation; that the commission had ordered the company to install a testing apparatus but that it had not done so. The commission, however, said it did not have proper equipment for making a test.

A letter was received from W. T. Kraft, assistant manager of the Hughes Electric company, in regard to complaints of noise being made by steam at the company's downtown plant, stating "this noise is being made by the steam ash conveyor system at our plant and we have been working ever since it was installed to lessen the noise and we have made a decided improvement. We will continue to do what we can to lessen the noise."

Petitions for paying the northwestern part of the city were renewed.

Test Case Suggested. Finance Commissioner Larson reported that the city had received a warrant of $30,000 from the county on March 30, and did not get it cashed until yesterday, because H. P. Knapp, former county treasurer, refused to cash it. He said the city had had to pay about $2,000 extra interest on coupons and suggested that the city treasurer be instructed to keep an itemized statement of the amount and a bill be presented to Burleigh county for the money, and a test case made, if necessary.

It was reported the dog catcher had held about 100 dog licenses and had shot three dogs. Unless persons owning dog pay the license fee their animals will be shot.

HAVE WE FORGOT LADS SLEEPING IN FLANDERS? RED POPPIES WILL TELL

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place, and in the sky
The larks still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below.

We are the dead,
Short days ago we lived,
Felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved,
And now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you, from falling hands, ye throw the torch—
Be yours to hold it high.
If you break the faith with us, who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

—McCREA.

Lest We Forget

Bismarck citizens are welcoming "Poppy Week." Over 1,000 small poppies and 400 large ones were sold by members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the American Legion on the first day of "Poppy Week."

The flower made famous through the crimson stains of battle in the poppy fields of France glowed from the button-holes of hundreds of citizens. Some business establishments found the larger ones an excellent aid in decorations.

The sale of the flowers will continue all week, and the auxiliary expects to distribute 5,000 of the smaller poppies and hundreds of the larger ones during the week.

Everyone is asked to keep the poppy to wear on Memorial day, next Sunday, and on Monday, when the decoration of soldiers' graves will take place.

The proceeds of the sale are divided. Part of the money will go to the American Legion and part of it for the relief of war orphans.

BERGDOLL TO KEEP HOME IN GERMAN CITY

Draft Evader Has no Intention of Moving, it is Said by Friends

BROTHER TESTIFIES

Mosbach, Baden, May 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Grover C. Bergdoll, the American draft evader, has resumed his residence in Aberbach after a vacation in various German health resorts. He declares he has no intention of leaving Germany although friends assert Bergdoll "has had offers to take up residence in a number of other countries."

A friend in Mosbach said today: "We have no fear of his arrest for the whole neighborhood would rise up to defend him."

BROTHER TESTIFIES. Washington, May 24.—Charles A. Braun, of Philadelphia, brother of Grover (Cleveland) Bergdoll, told the house investigation committee that he never advanced one dollar to help his brother to escape.

Declaring he had changed his name because of the notoriety attracted to his family as well as his name, Braun testified that he had persuaded Erwin, another slacker brother, to surrender and had tried to get word to Grover at Governor's Island to make no effort to escape.

Braun said that until recently he had not spoken to his mother or other members of the family for four years. "I know nothing about Grover's escape and less about the buried gold than this committee knows," he said. Two weeks ago he received a letter from Grover in Germany but it was so antagonistic to this country that he threw it away.

Asked about a check for $5,000 given him by his mother about the time of Bergdoll's escape Braun asserted that it was the first payment on his home which he had sold to Mrs. Bergdoll.

HOPE TRANSLATED INTO ACTION IN PLANS FOR SWIMMING POOL

(By Judge A. M. Christianson.)

The other day a long line of boys and girls marched down our streets carrying tags inscribed, "We want a swimming pool." You say that parade was arranged by "grown-ups"? It was. But the words written on the tags voiced the sentiments—the real sentiments—of every boy and girl there. Of course, they want a swimming pool. Every child wants to "go wading," or "go swimming." And, if a "swimming hole" can be found, the children, and especially the boys, are going to find it. If a desirable place is available, good and well, if not anything with water in it will do. Here, the Missouri is always beckoning in the distance. At times the boys yield to its call. Sometimes, some boy who yields fails to come back. Then the community bends its head in sorrow, and says: "Something must be done about a swimming pool," for we all realize that with the installation of a swimming pool the Missouri will cease to be the menace to the boy that it now is.

In the past, there has been more or less talk about a swimming pool. Now the talk has become action. The hope is about to become a reality. The dream is about to come true. A plan has been formulated for the immediate construction of a swimming pool, and every inhabitant of the city is afforded an opportunity to aid in executing it. I for one am glad of the privilege thus presented. It is well to remember that there is only one plan. It is either that or nothing. If the project undertaken by the Elks should fail, the swimming pool will again be relegated to the realm of hopes and dreams. The project must not fail. No one will deny its merits. The swimming pool will not only gladden the hearts of the youth of Bismarck, but will proclaim to every passing tourist that Bismarck is interested in the citizens of tomorrow as well as the citizens of today.

OFFER TO AID FUND FOR POOL

Jamestown College Players To Give Half of Gross Receipts

A voluntary offer to aid the swimming pool fund came from an unexpected source today.

The management of the Jamestown College players, who appear at the auditorium Saturday night in the annual play, informed the Elks' committee that since the players were not out for profit and were glad to aid a worthy cause, they will give fifty per cent of the proceeds above expenses to the swimming pool fund.

The offer was received gratefully by the committee. A good audience is expected to see the play, which is said to be one of the best college productions in the state.

The Foundation company, contractors on the Missouri river bridge, offered to contribute some cement for the pool.

FIRE HAZARDS GROW IN NORTH WOODS FORESTS

Railroad Train Wrecked When Heat Spreads Rails

Duluth, May 24.—Heavy southwest winds prevailed throughout the forests of northwestern Minnesota today and unless there is a change of weather conditions within 24 hours the fire hazard in the north woods will be as great as last week when a series of costly conflagrations occurred, officials of the Superior National State Forestry department said today.

Local officers of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad reported the destruction of a freight locomotive and damage to several freight cars in a forest fire near Saxon, Wis. Heat from the flames kinked the rails; the engine was derailed and the engineer and fireman barely escaped injury when they jumped. The train crew attempted to put the train back on the track when flames closed in on them and they were forced to retreat.

While guards are reported to have made marked headway since Sunday smothering remnants of fires which were partially smothered by rains, forest officials said large brush fires were numerous. With the wind blowing at such a stiff rate there is danger of new fires being started from these sources.

GOVERNMENT TO AID, NOT RUIN ANY BUSINESS

President Harding in New York Address Opposed to Government Ownership

SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL

Farmer Entitled to Help From Administration Without Injustice to Others

New York, May 24.—The cooperation of every factor of American business and industry to put the nation's house in order after the dislocation of war was bespoken by President Harding last night at a dinner here celebrating the 125th anniversary of the New York Commercial.

Agriculture, labor and business management, the President declared, must stand together in the confident purpose of reconstruction. He asserted that although the United States did not want to live in isolation and selfishness, its duties to the rest of the world could best be performed by giving its attention first to the rehabilitation of its own resources.

On the part of the administration, Mr. Harding promised that government interference with business would be reduced to a minimum, while government cooperation with all properly conducted businesses would be expanded and broadened. He declared his purpose to reverse the tendency in some quarters "to regard business as dishonest until it should prove itself honest, and to regard business in business as a crime."

Importance of Agriculture. Emphasizing the fundamental importance of agriculture, the President asserted that the farmer was entitled to "all the help the government can give him without injustice to others."

For the wage earner he asked sufficient compensation for comfort, education, and margin of savings, while for every other element in industry he urged a fair opportunity to do its part in the reconstruction task.

Mr. Harding also suggested that the nation's loans to the allies be put in a more tangible form, that facilities of exchange be bettered and that all the financial policies of the reconstruction period be so formulated as to protect the gold standard.

"Assuming that these things may be laid down as fundamentals," he said, "it is for us all to get back to work. We must have confidence that things will come right. We have dealt with the greatest problem that humanity ever confronted in carrying on the war. We will have no problem hereafter greater or more difficult than that was. Therefore, we are entitled to every confidence that we will cope successfully with the problems that lie ahead of us."

The text of the President's address follows in part:

"The New York Commercial was founded in the time when the young republic was distracted by a division of opinion concerning our relations with Europe. The noble Washington was being harpooned and was committed to the lay treaty with Great Britain, first of the nation's commercial covenants. It represented an effort to escape embroilment with the Old World system, and in the period when we were too weak to sustain a foreign conflict, it served to postpone that disaster. But only to postpone it for, with every wish to preserve the peace, it was impossible. We fought wars with France and England, as incidents to the French revolutionary and Napoleonic upheaval.

An Old Story. "It has been too often assumed that our recent involvement in the troubles of Europe marked a new development in our affairs. In fact it was an old story. We never were and never will be able to maintain isolation. But (Continued on Page Seven)

"WHAT'S SWIMMING POOL WORTH" IS ANSWERED BY MAN WHO LEAD FIGHT FOR POOL IN GRAND FORKS

What is a swimming pool worth to a town? The question is answered by H. W. Randall, a business man of Grand Forks, in a letter to the Bismarck Elks' committee. Excerpts from his letter follows:

"As I happen to be the 'Father of the Grand Forks Swimming Pool' Mr. Frank Brown has handed me your letter with regard to a swimming pool in Bismarck. Sometime ago I wrote to some people in Bismarck and gave them particulars and I am very sorry to hear that nothing has been done. Can it be possible that there is even one man in Bismarck so small as to think more of his dollars than the lives of the boys in Bismarck?"

"Our pool here has been in operation for four years, and I say with all reverence that I think the Lord in these four years we have not lost one boy from drowning, which means we are about eight boys to the good to say nothing of the benefits derived from keeping them healthy, clean and happy throughout the summer vacation."

"While I am not an Elk I know that it gets behind it that it will go and go big, and if you value the lives of your boys for Heaven's sake get behind it. I found when I started this movement that it met with about the same response that Noah met with his project, but when business men really saw what it would do they came across in splendid shape."

"Our pool is fifty feet wide, one hundred and fifty feet long and was

SITUATION IN SILESIA HELD TO BE EASIER

Dispatch of British Soldiers and German Action Tend to Peace

GERMANS CLOSE FRONTIER

London, May 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Germany's reply to the representatives of Great Britain and France for an embargo on the entry of troops or ammunition into Upper Silesia is generally regarded in official circles here as satisfactory.

A disposition also is noted on the part of Poland to attempt to control the insurgents occupying the disputed area.

These considerations, together with the dispatch of three thousand and four thousand British troops from the Rhine, which are preparing to move are inspiring a more hopeful attitude toward the Silesian problem. A final settlement however awaits the meeting of the supreme council which probably will be held at Bologne at the end of this week.

GERMAN'S REPLY.

Paris, May 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Germany replied today to the French communication of yesterday on the Silesian situation, the reply declaring in effect that Germany had taken the most rigorous measure toward the closing of its frontier of Upper Silesia.

NOT TO OCCUPY RUHR.

Paris, May 24.—(By the Associated Press).—Premier Briand, questioned by a group of deputies before the meeting of the chamber today, said there was no reason for the occupation of the Ruhr region because the aspect of the Silesian question had been changed and if the Ruhr were occupied without the support of the allies it would be equivalent to abandonment of the treaty of Versailles.

2,800 WOLVES ARE KILLED IN MONTH OF MAY

Over 2,800 wolves have been killed in North Dakota during May, it is indicated by payments from the wolf bounty fund made by the state auditor.

A total of $4,537.50 has been paid out to date, the rate being $2.50 for each pelt turned into a county auditor. The business is proving profitable for some hunters. During May and June hunters frequently capture dens containing several cubs. Most of the pelts turned in are those of coyotes.

Ward, Billings, Bottineau and Rolette counties are said to have turned in more claims than any others. The state appropriation for payment of wolf bounty is $40,000 for two years from next July 1.

IRELAND HOME RULE ELECTION IS HELD TODAY

Rush to Polls in North Ireland Marks Opening of the Voting

FIGHTS ARE REPORTED

Bricks and Stones Are Thrown —Child 2½ Years is Voted

Belfast, Ireland, May 24.—Elections for the new parliament under the Irish home rule bill were carried out throughout Ireland today, but only in the north of Ireland were ballots cast as nominations for the southern Irish parliament were made without contest.

Uster was astray early this morning to vote for the members of its new parliament under the system of its proportionate representation. The streets of Belfast were alive at dawn. Motor cars, horse and jaunting cars and the humble donkey-drawn cart moving from one side of the city to the other with voters both men and women.

It is possible the Belfast results will be known tomorrow but the others will not be in for several days.

Fight for Polls.

Thus far the election has been more of a fight to get to the polls ahead of opponents than a stand-up battle, but this rush led to some incidents, especially in the Cork street and Old Lodge district near the docks. As soon as the military were withdrawn from the streets at 5 o'clock this morning when the curfew ended the rival factions appeared at the doors of their homes with their women folks to proceed to their homes. Bricks and stones commenced to fly across the street and a few shots were fired before the police arrived to disperse the disputants. One constable was seriously injured by being hit by a brick.

Block Opponents.

Donegal Pass, one of the polling stations for unionists in West Belfast, was crowded hours before the time for voting by Nationalists. Another long line of Nationalists waited outside, thus blocking the way to their opponents. One woman who arrived at the polling station half an hour after it opened found her vote already had been cast.

There also were a large number of children votes whose votes could not be refused. They ranged in age from 2-1-2 years, who were just able to slip "I vote for Moles," a candidate of South Belfast, to boys and girls of 18 and 17 years of age.

BRITISH WILL JOIN AMERICAN POSSESSIONS

Plan Confederation of British States to Include Canada, Report

Washington, May 24.—Establishment of a confederation of British America to include Canada and the British colonies of the Bahamas, Barbadoes, Bermuda, Jamaica, the Leeward Islands, Trinidad, the Windward Islands and possibly British Honduras and British Guiana was reported here today in official circles to be under consideration in the British positions of north, south and central America. The idea of a United commonwealth of British America was represented in the report as a further development of the Union which began with the confederation of the far province of Canada in 1867.

Reference was made to the conference which was held in Ottawa in June, 1920, and attended by representatives of all the British colonies of the Americas for the purpose of drawing up a trade agreement since ratified by a majority of the colonies concerned.

BREWERIES ARE SEIZED BY U. S.

Charged with Making Beer With Too Much Kick

Chicago, May 24.—One large Chicago brewery and two other smaller ones in Illinois have been seized by agents from the internal revenue office. It is announced, on formal complaints charging them with making and selling beer containing more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol. The locations of the three breweries seized are, the North American Brewery, Chicago, the West Hammond Brewing Co., West Hammond, Ill., and the John Riefelsfeld Brewing Company, Thornton, Ill. This action followed an order issued by Judge J. M. Landis yesterday restraining two breweries at Joliet, Ills from further business. It was alleged that they had been selling "real" beer in Chicago.

The new raids were made by representatives of the department of internal revenue. With only eight prohibition agents left in Chicago, this was taken as an indication that measures taken up the task of enforcing prohibition here.

OVERLAND CUT $200; KNIGHT REDUCED $300

Rock Bottom Prices For Two Popular Cars Goes Into Affect June 1

Rock bottom prices for Overland automobiles go into effect here on June 1st.

This announcement was made yesterday by the Lahr Motor Sales Company, distributors of Willys-Overland products, following receipt of telegraphic advices from the Willys-Overland factory at Toledo, announcing sweeping reduction to $695 on the Overland touring, and $1,895 on the Willys-Knight touring, other reductions in proportion.

Smashed in September, Last September the price of the Overland was smashed from $1,035 to $995. June 1st the price is again cut, this time from $995 to $695, a sweeping reduction of $200 more.

The new price is $150 less than the lowest price for which this car was ever sold, and is made possible, according to John N. Willys, by the quantity sale of this popular car, which has already passed the 140,000 mark, and by the anticipation of great savings in manufacturing cost through increased volume, and increased factory efficiency.

The new Overland prices compared with the old are as follows:
Touring, $695; formerly $895.
Roadster, $695; formerly $895.
Coupe, $1,000; formerly $1,425.
Sedan, $1,275; formerly $1,475.

John N. Willys, recently returned from a trip in which he visited more than 3,000 Overland dealers, states, "The public wants to buy automobiles, but the buying public has hesitated in the hope that price cuts might be made. We have decided to anticipate every possible saving from material savings, and from the savings of volume production, and we are putting our prices at rock bottom June 1st."

Whole Route Now. "We are going the whole route right now. The price is the low price which we have long anticipated we might some day reach on the Overland car, and the car itself is better than ever before. It shows an average gasoline mileage of better than 25 miles to the gallon. Its tire mileage and its mileage on oil is astonishing."

"At the present we will take a loss on every Overland car we sell, but we fully expect to make this up through increased volume and increased material savings."

"This gives the public the opportunity to buy and use a modern, well designed, high-grade automobile, at a cost never before attained."

Have Organization.

"We have the organization to do this now as we never have had it before, and there is absolutely no question in the minds of our dealers and distributors that the Overland car today represents a value which makes it easily first among all pocket valve cars as a utility investment."

"The great surprise in the Willys-Overland announcement is the deep cut made in the Willys-Knight car. This car which uses the same type of motor as the famous Panhard built in France, the Daimler in England, and the Minerva in Belgium, and the Mercedes, has long been classed in the public mind as one of the country's fine cars."

Smartness of Design. "It combines smartness of design and fitness of workmanship with an extremely low cost of maintenance. Its gasoline mileage averages above 20 miles to the gallon, and the sleeve valve motor actually improves with use up to 50,000 miles, and maintains its high standard for a life that has yet found no limit. Yet this fine car by quantity production has been sold not as the eight to twelve thousand dollar figure of the foreign cars, but at the low figure of $2,195 during this past year in America."

"The new price $1,895 puts this car at the very lowest price among America's finest cars."

"The ability of Willys-Overland to make this saving may be judged from the fact that up to the first of May this year more than 50,000 Willys-Knight cars had been sold, and among the purchasers of this Willys-Knight car who are enthusiastic over the qualities of its motor, are the Prince of Wales and the King of Spain, who join with thousands of Americans in placing price secondary to satisfaction."

The new prices of the Willys-Knight, compared with the old, are as follows:
Touring, $1,895; formerly $2,195.
Roadster, $1,895; formerly $2,195.
Coupe, $2,550; formerly $2,845.
Sedan, $2,750; formerly $2,945.

DRY WORLD IS ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE'S AIM

Dr. Morrow Points to Work of Future—$2,500 Raised For League Here

Church people of Bismarck Sunday pledged $2,500 for the continued support of the National Anti-Saloon League.

The pledges were made in connection with the visit of Dr. George W. Morrow, of Detroit, Mich., here. Dr. Morrow, a lecturer for the anti-saloon league, addressed two large audiences at the First Baptist and at the Methodist Episcopal churches.

Dr. Morrow pictured the remarkable forward march for national prohibition during the last 30 years, drew the curtains aside and gave the audience at the Baptist church a glimpse of the intrigues and organized efforts which had to be met and overcome. Dr. Morrow said that the work is not ended because of the exposed border lines on the north and south. He pointed to world prohibition as a goal of the anti-saloon forces.

"Much legislation and a still stronger machine is being planned and built by leaders in world prohibition," he said. "We expect to have a law before long prohibiting the exportation from America to foreign countries of all machinery and products intended for manufacturing alcoholic drinks and we also expect to have a federal act by which citizens of this country engaged in the liquor business in foreign countries forfeit their citizenship. He left Bismarck Monday for Ellendale.

FASHION PLAY AT THE REX

Those who love beautiful gowns and hats cannot afford to miss Grace Davidson in her latest, Republic Picture, "Man's Plaything," which opens at the Rex theatre today for a two days' run. In it she is co-starred with Montague Love and supported by Stuart Holmes. It is described as one of the biggest photoplays of the year.

Of all the exquisite gowns she wears in "Man's Plaything," Miss Davidson is fondest of one of gold metal cloth trimmed with black fox fur about the edge of the skirt and around the cape. There is a mystery about the gown. The star calls it a Jekyll and Hyde affair. The secret of it is disclosed in the picture.

In addition to this splendid photo play "The Sapphire Girls" are presenting a farce with six big musical numbers and as an added attraction Charlie Chaplin will be seen in the two-reel comedy, "One A. M."

FAMOUS SHIP IS BURNED AT WATER'S EDGE

Frigate, Pride of Navy in Mon-roe's Term, is Destroyed

New York, May 24.—The New York naval training ship, Granite State, once the pride of the American navy, was burned to the water's edge in a spectacular fire in which sailors dove through port holes after flooding the magazine.

The old wooden frigate for years had lain in the Hudson river. Firemen concluded that a break in an oil pipe running under the river had coated the water with a thick film and that a motor boat, backing, had set the oil ablaze.

The Granite State, formerly the U. S. S. New Hampshire, had a service record extending back more than 100 years. She was commissioned in 1818 in the presence of James Monroe, fifth president.

She was on the battle line during the Civil war, but when she was repurposed by the steel fighting craft that now bears her former name, she reverted to training purposes. Twice she returned briefly to federal service—once during the Spanish war and again during the world conflict, when she was used as a receiving ship.

INJUSTICE DONE MOONEY IS CLAIM

San Francisco, May 24.—The district attorney "believes that an injustice was done in the conviction of Thomas J. Mooney for a 1916 preparation day bomb murder and will present to the governor evidence substantiating this belief that will compel him to act."

Milton U'Rea, assistant district attorney, so said today in opposing a motion to release Mooney under a common law pleading.

SHIPOWNERS STAND FIRM

Washington, May 24.—American shipowners might have signed an agreement with the marine workers before May 1, but they cannot see their way clear to enter into an agreement now. W. L. ## TAFT LIKELY TO GAIN GREATEST GOAL

WILLIAM H. TAFT

By Newspaper Enterprise
Washington, May 24.—Friends say William Howard Taft's greatest ambition will be achieved if, as is expected, he is appointed by President Harding to succeed the late Chief Justice White.

Taft, even though president, always has regarded the post of chief justice as an honor as high as could be attained by any American.

He was generally said to be White's choice for his successor. It was Taft who while president named White to the position.

Taft was born in Cincinnati Sept. 15, 1857, was graduated from Yale in 1878, and took his law degree from the Cincinnati Law School in 1880.

His first important public position was the judgeship of the Ohio Superior Court, to which he was appointed in 1887. He was named solicitor general by President Harrison in 1890.

Later he was made judge of the federal circuit court, and in this position attracted national attention by a labor decision, in which he held labor has the right to organize but unions are subject to injunctions when their acts threaten general welfare.

In 1900 Taft was made chairman of the commission to institute civil government in the Philippines. In 1903 he twice refused the appointment proffered by President Roosevelt of associate justice of the Supreme Court—because of political ambitions—and in 1904 he became Roosevelt's secretary of war.

In 1908 Roosevelt virtually made him president, but in 1912 Roosevelt unmade him by shifting the Republican party into conservative and progressive factions, Roosevelt leading the latter.

Taft since leaving the presidency has held a Yale professorship and has lectured. He also served on many public and semi-public bodies. During the war he served as a member of the National War Labor Board, doing much to smooth over labor troubles and increase wartime production.

He has steadily advocated American entry into the League of Nations.

He receives $25,000 a year from a bequest made by Andrew Carnegie.

The salary of chief justice is $15,000 a year.

Taft married Helen Herron, daughter of John W. Herron of Cincinnati, June 19, 1886. They have three children, Helen, wife of Frederick Johnson Manning, college instructor; Robert, Ohio state senator, and Charles F. Taft.

FEZ NO LONGER TO MARK TURK

Constantinople, May 24.—The National Assembly in Ankara, has decided that the fez is no longer to be the national headpiece of the Turk. By unanimous vote it was agreed that the "kalpak" should replace it, as the uniform covering for the head of all troops, officials and Turkish subjects generally.

The principal argument in favor of this reform, which eliminates one of the most characteristic and picturesque features of Turkish attire, was an economical one. The Turks have never been able to manufacture lezes that compared in price or quality with those manufactured abroad, especially in Austria, where there were several large factories which turned out millions of these articles.

The "kalpak" can be manufactured in Turkey, but it can hardly be considered an improvement on the old fez.

It is made of black cloth or felt, and is much the same shape as the fez only flatter and broader, as it does not taper. Neither is really a very practical form of head-gear, because they are warm, and afford little protection against rain and none from the glare of the sun. The fez was bright and lent color to any assembly. Its successor is somber, uninteresting and on the whole rather depressing.

Through the influence of the National Adoption Society of England and American committee of that organization, these foundlings within a few years will be listed in the social register, instead of fighting an up-hill battle in London slums.

A number of governmental immigration regulations had to be abrogated to allow the infants to take domestic refuge in America. Through the Department of Labor the literacy test at Ellis Island was eliminated, there being no mention of baby talk in the literacy law, and members of the committee deposited bonds against the likelihood of their becoming public charges.

MEDIUM INJECTS "SPIRIT VOICE" INTO KNOT MURDER CASE

Mrs. Ethel B. Nott, facing trial as an accessory in the murder of her husband, Elwood B. Wade (left), Mrs. Nott's paragon; and John Edward Johnston, farmhand, witness of the crime.

By Newspaper Enterprise.
Bridgeport, Conn., May 23.—A "voice from spiritland" enters into the case of Mrs. Ethel B. Nott, who faces trial May 24 for the murder of her husband, George B. Nott.

"A battle is going on in spiritland," says Miss Dolly Dalamater, a trance medium who holds seances here every night.

"Soon the world will realize that one person lost his life because he was used by the spirits as the instrument to right a material condition," the medium says.

She referred to Elwood B. Wade, paragon of Mrs. Nott, sentenced to die May 20 for his part in the murder of Nott.

"Wade was not mentally responsible for the crime and that is why he was used as an instrument of spiritland," Miss Dalamater asserted.

In fact, Wade's attorneys introduced allentists at his trial to prove that he was mentally deficient.

Wade shot Nott four times Aug. 1920, in Mrs. Nott's presence in the Nott home. It is charged Mrs. Nott conspired with Wade to have him commit the crime. As Nott lay groaning on the floor, Wade stabbed him with a knife 19 times, "to stop his squealing."

The body was carried to an attic room and packed in a trunk. Later it was buried in a quicksand bed. It was testified at Wade's trial that he ordered the two Nott children to play jazz on a player piano to drown the gruesome noises of the killing.

The children, Ruth, 13, and George, 11, now live with Miss Dalamater, who is only 20 and a friend of Mrs. Nott.

Ruth plays religious hymns which open the spiritualistic seances. The favorites seem to be "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Lead Kindly Light."

Nott's son acts as usher to the long line of people who attend the seances. Later he stands during the collection at the plate at the head of the stairs.

Another figure at the trance seances is Mrs. Matilda Hutchins, of Chelsea, Mass., the aged mother of Mrs. Nott. From an arm chair placed in a room opening on the parlor where the seances are held, she watches the medium, attentive to every word and act.

"I am sorry, I am sorry," this wall arises again and again during the seance, which deals with commonplace questions of those in the circle.

The wall is the voice of Nott's spirit, Miss Dalamater asserts. She says she receives other messages from Nott's spirit, but will not reveal them because they might have a bearing on the trial of Mrs. Nott.

The medium interprets this walling as a confession by Nott that "he was responsible for his own murder."

Regular attendants at the medium's seances say that in a trance she foretold Nott's death and the manner of it.

At a recent trance, Miss Dalamater grew very weak. When she recovered she said, "A spirit is trying to kill me."

If permitted, Miss Dalamater says she will take the stand at Mrs. Nott's trial to tell of messages she received from the spirit world before and after Nott's death.

John Edward Johnston, a milk peddler employed by Wade's father, will face a murder charge after Mrs. Nott's trial.

The state charges that he was at the Nott home a few minutes before the murder and that he helped carry away the trunk containing Nott's body.

FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS IN MEETING HERE REVIEW CLUB WORK

District Officers Report On Progress During Year

MRS. WINTER A GUEST

The seventh annual meeting of the Eighth District Federation of Women's clubs met in Bismarck Monday evening in the Community room of the city library. Following the presentation of credentials with Mrs. D. McGillis, chairman of credentials committee, the program of the evening was opened with singing of America, led by Miss Bergliot Caspary. Invocation was offered by Rev. H. G. Postlethwaite, and Miss Caspary sang "Puff-bloom" by MacDermid, and an encore, sang Greig's "Good Morning" in both the Norwegian and the English language.

The district secretary, Mrs. Edith Meyer, read the minutes of the last meeting held in Jamestown and Mrs. Lyman Carey of Mandan, state president of the Federation of Women's clubs made an excellent address, emphasizing the three general aims of federation work for the coming year: Education, Child Welfare, and Public Health. The speaker explained the hope of the new Children's Code Commission, created by the last legislative session in effecting a survey of conditions among the children of North Dakota with a view to bettering those conditions.

Departments Reviewed. The work of the departments was reviewed by the chairman, Mrs. A. G. Jacobson on Fine Arts; Supt. Minnie Jean Nelson, on American Citizenship; Mrs. Andrew Blawett, of Jamestown, on Legislation, and Mrs. F. R. Smyth, editor of the Bulletin, on Press.

Daily Fashion Hint

A DESIGN FOR GINGHAM

Green and white check gingham and plain green chambray could not be combined more effectively than in this frock. The overblouse and gathered tunic are of the chambray, while the skirt and underblouse are of gingham. An effective touch is added in the black moiré ribbon bow which holds together the turn-down collar. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yds. 32-inch check and 3 yards 32-inch material.

Pictorial Review Patterns. For Sale at Lucas'

Work, each covering her subject thoroughly. The meeting closed with singing the North Dakota song, led by Mrs. Jacobson.

Committees appointed by the district vice president, Mrs. C. S. Buck of Jamestown, were: Credentials, Mrs. D. J. McGillis and Mrs. C. L. Young; resolutions, Mrs. H. Dickinson of McCluskey, and Mrs. Oscar Soller of Jamestown; elections, Mrs. C. A. Cross, Dawson, and Mrs. F. O. Freberg of Mercer.

The second day's meeting was convened at the Community room of the city library at 9 o'clock. After singing the North Dakota song, led by Mrs. Jacobson, reports of committees of the eighth district were given. Out of the twenty-one clubs or more, eighteen gave interesting reports. One club, Pingree, is just organized and has, as yet, no report to make and it is understood that one club in the district has disbanded.

Division Chairmen Report. Reports of division chairmen: Fine Arts, Mrs. Don Nierling, Jamestown; American Citizenship, Mrs. C. A. Cross, Dawson; Applied Education, Mrs. M. H. Jewell, Bismarck, and Public Welfare, Mrs. M. O. Davidson of Mercer, all had their work well in hand. The county chairmen of the five counties of the eighth district, Burleigh, Mrs. C. L. Young; Sheridan, Mrs. H. Dickinson; McLean, Mrs. Joseph Mann; Stutsman, Mrs. C. R. Boyden, and Kidder, Mrs. C. A. Cross gave reports of their counties and much constructive work was discussed.

Mrs. C. A. Cross, of Dawson, was elected secretary-treasurer for the new term to succeed Mrs. Edith Meyer of Bismarck who was unwilling to continue the work, believing that many women as possible in the district should take the work of officer in the organization.

The federation voted approval of the Club Bulletin and interested discussion was had as to way and means of financing same.

First Lady of France Aiding In "Wear a Poppy" Movement

Madame Millerand

The red poppy of Flanders Fields, the flower immortalized in verse when it bloomed over the graves of the American hero dead sleeping there, is proving a new bond of friendship between America and France. The "Wear a Poppy" Movement, sponsored by the American-France Children's League and many patriotic organizations, has received the indorsement of President Millerand of France and the National Information Bureau here. Replicas of the Flanders poppy will be worn in both nations on May 30 in memory of those who fell fighting for humanity's cause.

Madame Millerand, wife of the president of France, is in active charge of the work of the League in France. The organization is a clearing house for the relief work among the children of the war-torn areas and the funds raised through the sale of poppies will go toward the amelioration of the conditions among these children. The poppies have been made by French orphans, and millions of them have been sent to America.

Mme. Millerand has been heart and soul in relief work ever since the declaration of war. She has given many hours daily to it, and still continues to do so, despite the demands upon her time because of her position as "first lady of the land" in some cases she has personally administered relief, taking necessities to needy children.

BUY YOUR POPPY EARLY

Wear a Poppy for the boys who have "gone west"!

A beautiful custom inaugurated by the American Legion in memory of their comrades who have crossed the "Great Divide."

The scarlet Poppy has an appeal that is irresistible to the man in whose soul surges a love for his land—be it his native home or the country of his adoption.

It is a small token of respect to the fallen heroes. Don't let neglect rob you of participation in the nation wide tribute to the boys who fell in Flanders field.

The real White Man's Burden is War Debt.

WHAT YOU SHOULD EAT

Spain's decadence is shown by the fact that the staple food there is beans, says a writer in the Spanish La Vanguardia.

Beans are easy to cook. All the cook has to do is to put 'em in a pot of water, and let 'em boil.

Mental laziness is revealed in a cook who boils beans day after day, avoiding the exertion required to figure out a more varied fare. Those who are content to eat beans day after day reveal a similar mental sloth. At any rate, that is the opinion of this observer in bean-fed Spain.

Some men everywhere order the same luncheon, day after day. Does that indicate a tendency to lapse into a rut?

Yes, perhaps, if the unvaried fare is a just habit. No, if it is the result of experiments which demonstrated that a certain combination is best suited to the individual's taste and requirement. What's your order?

A good mechanic always keeps his machine clean.

A GOOD SIGN FROM GERMANY

The news from Germany that the government and the financiers are making heroic efforts to stabilize exchange at a modest figure is of the greatest importance. That the first step is to be the diminishing of paper issues to the point of stoppage, indicates that the effort is to be a serious one.

The epidemic of inflation which has swept the world during the past few years reached its greatest virulence in Germany. When the war began Germany's net circulation was, in round numbers, 1,900,000,000 marks. At the time of the armistice it had increased to 18 billion marks. A year ago it was nearly 50 billion marks. The figures for May 1, this year, are 70 billion marks, and going up.

There was no possibility of Germany's return to financial and industrial health until this situation was corrected.

That it is to be corrected and that the decision has been made immediately following the acceptance by Germany of the allies' reparation demands, is a sign that the Germans recognize the necessity of putting their financial house in order if they are to meet the obligations imposed upon them by the allies.

The published memoirs of the war politicians in most cases can be boiled down to "I shook the hand of the mighty So-and-So."

FUTURE OF FARM ORGANIZATIONS

By a very decisive vote the House of Representatives passed the Volstead bill removing from the farmers' organizations some of the penalties of the Clayton anti-trust act. It will, when it becomes a law, encourage the farmers more effectively to form co-operative organizations for marketing and distribution.

Whether it will protect the farmers from the losses they have suffered through middle-men and from the waste of unorganized distribution is a question. It is intended to permit federations of farmers to do interstate and foreign commerce. The success of the Danish farmers, and of the organized creameries of Siberia, in fighting their battles for markets against such an opponent as the American beef trust proves that the right sort of organization wins.

And we are not without successes of the same sort in this country. The orange and lemon industries of California and the fruit growers of the Pacific northwest never could have taken the commanding place they have occupied in their respective fields if it had not been for their organizations.

The federal co-operative factories of Wisconsin last year did a business of $3,359,000 on a paid-in capital of only $1,320. It now proposes to sign up 60 per cent of the factories in a three-year pool, brand its cheese and advertise.

Keeping the people on the land is a great national problem; and nothing but profit can keep them there.

We need not fear that such organizations can ever become predatory. In the first place it is impossible to organize all the farmers. In the next, foreign competition always prevents extortion in farm products. It is very possible that by eliminating a lot of useless middlemen—some middlemen are very useful—the people of the cities may benefit in lower and steadier prices, and a better supply.

And in a country which has stood the "Pittsburg-plus" practice in the basic industry of steel the danger of a farmers' trust ought not to scare anyone.

What matters, a trifle like no sales, if the home team wins today?

What is your favorite expression when you pick up a wad of gum on your shoe?

The doughboy who braved shrapnel would feel at home on a crowded municipal golf links.

In a few years the nation will be entirely sober.

There'll be more attention paid to public affairs then.

Bucket shops report considerable speculative interest in railroad securities. Speculative is right.

Gingham prices soar as women turn to gingham dresses for economy. They get us coming and going.

Considering some of the stuff that is written, it's a wonder there isn't more insanity among proof-readers.

Nearly every fellow that looks up his family tree is content to draw the curtain when he gets back about 200 years.

Two and a half years have passed since the armistice, and politicians still are promising to do something for the disabled soldiers.

For supreme optimism, you can't beat that Akron tire worker who is going to ask the courts to sustain his claim to real estate in the heart of New York by inheritance from his great-grandfather.

THE SWIMMING POOL AGAIN

Our old friend, the swimming pool project, bobbed up again Saturday.

For two years, The Forum has been trying to create interest in the construction of a concrete swimming pool in a centrally located spot in Fargo.

Saturday it was announced that Bismarck is planning a $10,000 swimming pool, the project being backed by the Elks.

And in the same issue of The Forum was a statement from W. P. Porterfield of the Fargo park board that the park board members were "sold" on the swimming pool idea, and that they were going to undertake the work as soon as the funds were available. It is to be their next big project, he said, and estimated the cost at $40,000.

The man who can afford to send his family to "the lakes" for the summer, or who can take them there on weekend trips, does not feel the need of any municipal bathing facilities. But there are thousands of youngsters, to say nothing of the adults, who do not have any opportunity from the beginning of summer to the end of it, to go wading or swimming unless they brave the muddy banks and the treacherous current of the river, while running the risk of arrest for indecent exposure for using a bush for a bathhouse.

Mr. Porterfield and the other members of the park board undoubtedly will have popular support when they undertake their project. The Forum believes that all such organizations as the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the Town Criers, the Commercial club, and the big fraternal societies would back it with their influence and their active support if the park funds were inadequate.

And while building the dressing rooms, they should be so planning as to serve for a skating curling and hockey rink for the winter months. Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The Fairy Queen called Flippety-Flap and the twins to her.

When old Tag Tiger was wiping his whiskers all purr-purr like, after a god supper of beautiful beefsteaks and roasts and all the things he liked best, and thinking what a great old goose he'd been all these weeks to try to make his own living in the jungle, the Fairy Queen called Flippety-Flap and the twins to her, where she sat on her throne with the Magical Mushroom beside her.

There was a great howling and scraping for awhile, for it is quite necessary to treat a queen and especially a fairy one, with great respect.

"There! That's over!" said the queen at last in a relieved tone. "Now we can talk like real people. And the first thing I wish to say is 'Thank you.' You've got a real circus together at last, and the best of it is, everyone is perfectly happy. I do believe that even cross old Grumpy Hippo is really going to be pearly in spite of what she said, when she said that we have fixed the conditions."

Remarkable Remarks

More girls have been robbed of future husbands as a result of the good-night kiss than for any other reason. After a man kisses a girl, he doesn't want her.—Dr. Charles E. Baker, psychologist.

We shall have a class struggle, the like of which has never been seen, if we attempt to shift $1,000,000,000 taxes from the incomes of the rich to the farmer and laborer.—Chairman H. C. McKenzie, tax commission, American Farm Bureau Federation.

There was more destruction of property in one Confederate county (in the American Civil War) than has been caused by all of the so-called reprisals throughout Ireland.—David Lloyd George, British premier.

One of the difficulties of prohibition enforcement is that we haven't discovered the need of getting enforcement officers who are more interested in enforcement than in getting a drink.—William Jennings Bryan.

VOLUNTEERS AID LAW ENFORCEMENT

Minneapolis, Minn., May 24 Various organizations of private citizens formed into anti-liquor committees will adequately fill the gap left by the reduction of the number of his operatives by more than 50 per cent, or orders from Washington, Paul D. Keller, supervising federal prohibition enforcement agent of the northwest declared.

Mr. Keller has received notification from Washington that he should order 35 of his 50 enforcement agents to take furloughs without pay until July 1, caused by the deficiency of the appropriation for enforcement work.

"Many committees composed of private citizens, and who are interested themselves in the strict enforcement of the liquor law have been a great help to this office, and now since the number of my agents have been reduced, these committees will be more active," Mr. Keller stated. "With the retention of the old, experienced agents, together with the help of these citizen bodies, the prohibition act will be strictly enforced in all the states in my jurisdiction."

The federal prohibition enforcement chief explained that these private organizations secure evidence of liquor law violations, go before a United States court commissioner and swear to a complaint, and is followed by a search by his men.

"Although the reduction of my force to about 25 men is quite a blow," he admitted, "added activity and the formation of more such committees will fill the gap handsomely."

The state prohibition directors in Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska, he said, have enlisted the aid of the county attorneys in the states and with the aid of the latter, are forming these enforcement committees. Mr. Keller mentioned the committee of Thirteen in Minneapolis, the Committee of One Hundred in St. Paul, and the effective work of similar bodies under F. W. Watkins, prohibition director of North Dakota as a boon to enforcement work.

Most of the agents who will be given a furlough will still receive remuneration from the Department of Justice.

HOLD HEARING ON BILL FOR U. S. JUDGESHIP

Washington, D. C., May 24.—A hearing was held yesterday before the subcommittee of the house judiciary committee on North Dakota associate judge bill.

Congressmen Burtness and Young were invited to attend. Congressman Burtness said that there was need for the appointment of an additional judge and gave statistics showing the steadily increasing number of jury and court cases standing on the calendar undisposed of. He said the consensus of opinion among North Dakota attorneys was that an additional judge should be appointed, but he said there were sharp differences of opinion about who should be appointed, and that many members of the state bar association desired the passage of the bill delayed in order to give time within which the views of North Dakota attorneys could be expressed to the president, the attorney general and senators. He urged delay.

Chairman Walsh said repeatedly that the judiciary committee and the house of representatives, had nothing to do with the appointment and said that his committee would not consider that phase of it. They would only consider the need of another judge. Congressman Young agreed with Burtness that North Dakota litigants are entitled to have another judge appointed in order to dispose promptly of court business, and said that Judge Amidon had written to say that the appointment of another judge was needed.

Chairman Walsh said that the bill, if reported, could not come up under the house rules before two weeks from the state bar association desired the passage of the bill delayed in order to give time within which the views of North Dakota attorneys could be expressed to the president, the attorney general and senators. He urged delay.

THANKS TO LIZZIE

By Berton Braley

The high people ever go touring
In huge and splendid cars
That move with a smoothness alluring,
Protected from jolts and from jars;
Our car shakes the spine and the liver,
And yet it's our joy and our pride—
The little old family flier
That cheerfully takes us to ride.

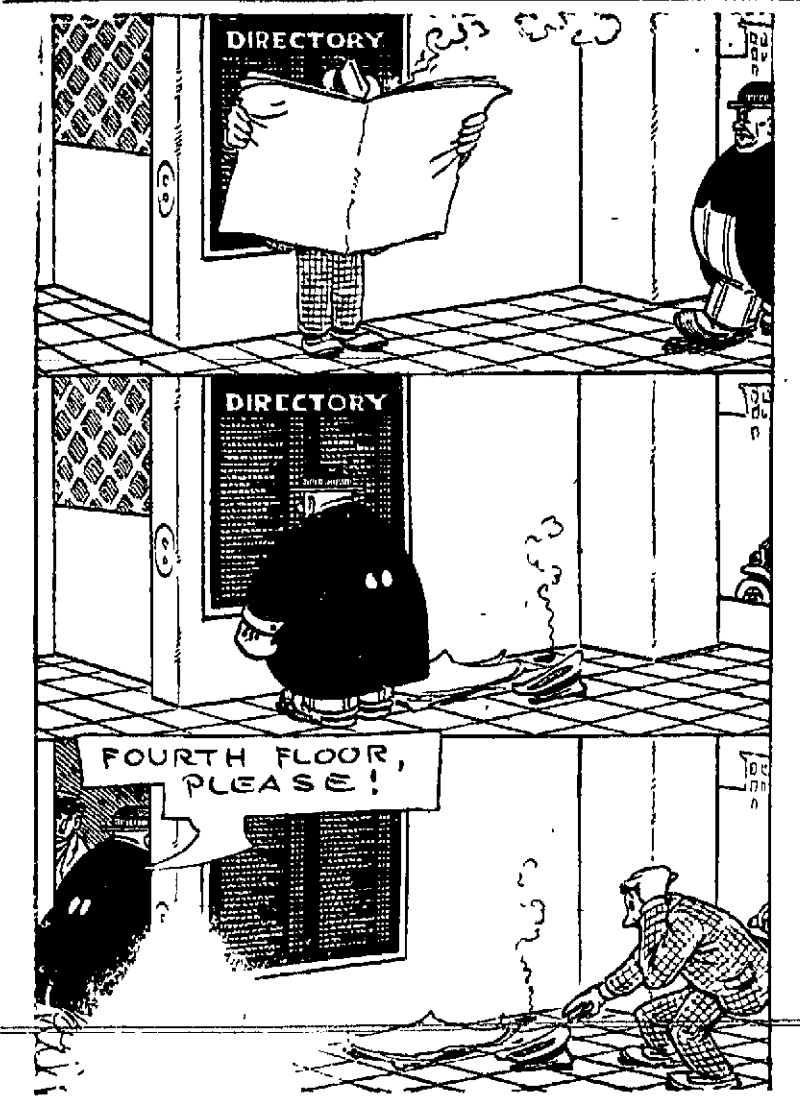

It's true when we go for a spin, it
Is crowded wherever it wends,
For all of the family's in it,
Along with a number of friends,
Though packed till we scarcely can quiver,
We still can enjoy all the while
The little old family flier
Which carries us mile after mile!

It's funny and dandy and battered,
It rattles and jounces a lot,
But somehow that never has mattered
Compared to the fun that we got
In riding by hill, lake and river,
Wherever we happened to steer,
The little old family flier
That's served us for many a year.

What care we for mud-guards that yammer
Or springs that complain as we run?
This car has brought magic and glamor;
It's made us all pals with the sun,
Its body may shimmy and shiver,
Its cylinders miss—yet we praise
The little old family flier
That adds to the fun of our days!

today on unanimous consent day. Congressman Dominick, ranking Democratic member of the committee, said he could not understand why there was so much talk about getting time for the attorneys within which to express their views. He said "supposing Judge Amidon had died a few weeks ago, when this bill passed the senate? Could anyone have secured any definite length of time for North Dakota attorneys to say what judge they wanted appointed? They have already had more time than occurs when a judge dies, and any committee has nothing to do with the appointment. All we want to know is whether there is need for another judge in North Dakota."

Silvertowns Included In The 20 Per Cent Price Reductions

Motorists will all be glad to know that the famous Silvertown Cord Anti-Skid Safety Tires are included in the recent 20% price reduction which brought tire prices back to pre-war basis. Among tires Silvertown is the name that instantly conveys the thought of the highest quality. Motor car manufacturers and dealers are quick to emphasize to their prospects that their cars are equipped with Silvertowns, knowing that neither explanation nor argument is necessary. This reduction brings Goodrich prices to a point 15% below the pre-war schedules as represented by the 1913 level. It is rather startling to find that in 1910 tire prices were 15% higher than the Goodrich prices today. Mr. Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, has recently suggested that when price reductions are made present prices should be shown, compared with the prices on same article one year ago. In the case of Goodrich this would show that last November tires were reduced about 15% and on May 2nd Goodrich reduced prices on every size and style of their tires including Silvertown 20%.

A tangible expression of the greater mileage service now being built into tires is reflected by the higher basis of adjustment generally used by the leading companies. Thus, if a tire proves defective today it is adjusted, under the Goodrich plan, on the basis of 6,000 miles if it is a Fabric, and 8,000 miles if it is of Cord construction. Contrast this with the adjustment basis in use a few years ago, i. e. 3,500 miles, and it is easy to comprehend the great progress made in tire manufacture.

It is not a far-fetched conclusion to say that tires today give from 50% to 100% greater mileage than they did a few years ago. Therefore, if the tire companies were selling mileage today at the 1911 price level, they would actually cost from $5.00 to $25.00 more than at present. The conclusion is obvious, therefore, that based on comparative service tires cost less today than ever before.

The rubber industry is to be commended on its rapid progress toward normal. It represents an earnest effort to meet the wishes of the Administration and the general public in the establishment of lower price levels on which all classes of trade can unite and transact business.

The price reduction campaign instituted by Goodrich has received the endorsement of motorists, dealers and the press—as an economic move in tune with the spirit of the times.

GOVERNMENT TO AID, NOT RUIN ANY BUSINESS

our part and our place in international affairs are strikingly changed. Our rise in power and influence has imposed new responsibilities. Today our strength in the industrial, financial and commercial world, our capacity to produce, our ability to extend credit which others cannot give and which brave but unfortunate peoples sorely need—all these make it necessary that we shall adopt new commercial methods whereby to insure the fullest possible service to civilization. I bespeak the help of every organ of intelligent, understanding business, to enable the nation to meet these demands.

It has been said many times, but it cannot be too often repeated and emphasized, that in doing this we will be alike discharging a duty to others and seeking an opportunity for our own advancement. There have seldom been more convincing proofs that we see all around us now of the essential interdependence of all parts of the world. He who displays the broadest spirit of brotherhood, helpfulness, and true charity, will most surely be casting his bread upon the waters.

Only in World

"Our duty to the world at large is pressing, but we will equip ourselves best to perform helpfully if we are unwaveringly loyal to ourselves. The most important thing to America is our constitutional system. Inseparable from the foundation of a more perfect union. The Constitution sought to establish justice. True, we have not attained the perfection of our ideals in this regard, nor has any other human society done so. Justice, like charity, must begin at home. We must be just to ourselves and to our own first of all. This is not selfish, for selfishness seeks more than a fair share; we seek only that which is rightfully our own, and then to preserve that to ourselves and our posterity."

"We do well to keep in mind at this time the fundamental importance of agriculture, and in every possible way insure justice to it. The farmer is entitled to all the help the government can give him without injustice to others, because it is of the utmost importance that the agricultural community be contented and prosperous. This must be accomplished by intruding itself in the other section, but by processes which will insure real justice among all elements in the community.

"Turning to industry, our policy must be to give it every facility possible, but to keep government outside of participation in business on its own account. It is not necessary for the government to intrude itself in the business activities which are better conducted through private instrumentalities, merely in order to demonstrate that the government is more powerful than anything else in this country. The government's part in business should be no more than to insure adherence to the principles of common honesty, and to establish regulations that will enable it to sail a safe course. There has been some tendency to regard business as dishonest until it should prove itself honest, and to regard dishonesty in business as a crime. But almost all business today is conducted on a scale which though we have come to regard as commonplace, would have made our forefathers gasp; and I prefer to assume it is honest until proven dishonest. So, I speak for the least possible measure of government interference with business, but for the largest cooperation with properly conducted business, and the most effective measures to insure that, whether it be big or little, business shall be honest and fair."

To Establish Justice

"In our effort at establishing industry all justice, we just see that the wage earner is placed in an economically sound position. His lowest wage must be enough for comfort, enough to make his house a home, enough to insure that the struggle for existence shall not crowd out the things truly worth existing for. There must be provision for education, for recreation, and a margin for savings. There must be such freedom of action as will insure full play to the individual's activities. On the other hand, the wage earner must do justice to society. He must render services fully equal in value to the compensation he is paid. And finally, both employer and employee owe to the public such efficiency as will insure that cost of service or production shall not be higher than the public can fairly pay.

"Assuming that these things may be laid down as fundamentals, it is for us all to get back to work. That is what made our country great, it is what will put the whole world back on the right track. We must have the world must have, confident that things will come out right. We have dealt with the greatest problem that humanity ever confronted, in carrying on the war. We will have no problem hereafter greater or more difficult than that was. Therefore, we are entitled to every confidence that we will cope successfully with the problems which yet lie ahead of us.

"It is altogether to be hoped that in a reasonable period we may change the form of these obligations, and distribute them among all the people. We hope also that there may be effected a reduction of the cost of government, in these ways we hope to release a great volume of wealth and credit from the burden that government has been imposing, and make it available for the development of domestic industry and the expansion of foreign trade. We ask the cooperation of business leaders, and we assure them that within its proper limitations the government will meet them half way.

To Create Demand

"By this process we shall aim to create renewed demand for the product of our industries, to test the permanent market value of our surplus, and to learn that the immediate need, so far as our own country is concerned, is not so much production as facilities of exchange. To that end, I could wish that the tendency of the world's gold to gravitate to us might be checked. Beyond the point of insuring security to our circulation, gold would be more useful to us in the hands of great banks abroad, where it would be the guarantee of gold standard and of those fair exchanges which are vital to international trade. I feel strongly that the protection of the gold standard is one of the great obligations which peculiarly appertain to us.

"We are coming to understand the elements of the problem we face, and that is a long step toward solution. Give us the earnest support of such men as I see gathered here, of such organs of sound policy as we are gathered to acclaim, and we shall not be long in putting our country on the right course, ready for the slightest speed ahead."

MARKETS

WHEAT DECLINES

Chicago, May 24.—Wheat "went" a sharp decline in price today as a result of cooler weather and of prospective sellers' southwest. Opening prices which varied from 1-1/2 cent decline to 1-1/2 cent gain were followed by decided setbacks all around.

In the last part of the day selling orders became scarce and the market ran up rapidly with a wave of buying due largely to bullish Nebraska crop reports, continued high temperatures throughout the west and to lack of rain. The close was hurried, 5-3-1-2-7 cents net higher, with May, $1.31-1-2 and July, $1.31-1-4 to $1.31-3-4.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR

Minneapolis, May 24.—Flour unchanged to 15 cents higher. In carload lots $9.50 to $9.55 a barrel. Shipments 49,912 barrels.

Chicago, May 24.—Cattle receipts 3,000. Beef steers slow, steady to 25 cents lower. Bulk $7.75 to $8.50. Hog receipts 36,000. Fully active, 10 to 15 cents lower.

Sheep receipts 12,000. Opening slow.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

St. Paul, May 24.—Cattle receipts 5,000. Slow. Mostly steady to weak. Common to good beef steers 20-25 to $8.25. Bulk $6.75 to $7.50. Few heavy steers $8.00. Best load lots early $8.00. Indianapolis pounded its way into first place in the American Association by defeating Kansas City, 10 to 3. Ten two-base hits and two three-baggers featured the game.

Jim Bagby hurled well for Cleveland against Boston, and the Indians won, 4 to 1. Bagby held his opponents to four hits.

After Ruth was passed to get Pipp, the latter singled with the bases full, and the Yankees won over St. Louis, 6 to 4.

Doney Bush, of Detroit, scored yesterday on a bunt. He beat out a hit, went to third on Perkins' wild throw to first and ran home when Griffin threw badly to the plate after taking Witt's return.

The Insider Says

French lingo is French and American lingo is American—but fighting in either is just the same.

Those who believe a knockout is coming in the big fight are wondering—how, when and where?

Ty Cobb is a boxer in Philadelphia. Sounds like a hitter!

A lot of men "give up golf" who never give it up.

The 14th must be Walter Pipp's lucky day. He cracked out his first homer of the season on April 14, and his second on May 14.

School teachers are umpiring ball games in Chicago. Maybe it'll make the kids perk up in their studies.

The headlock has lost its grip on the public since Strangler Lewis' famous hold slipped off Zibby's bald head.

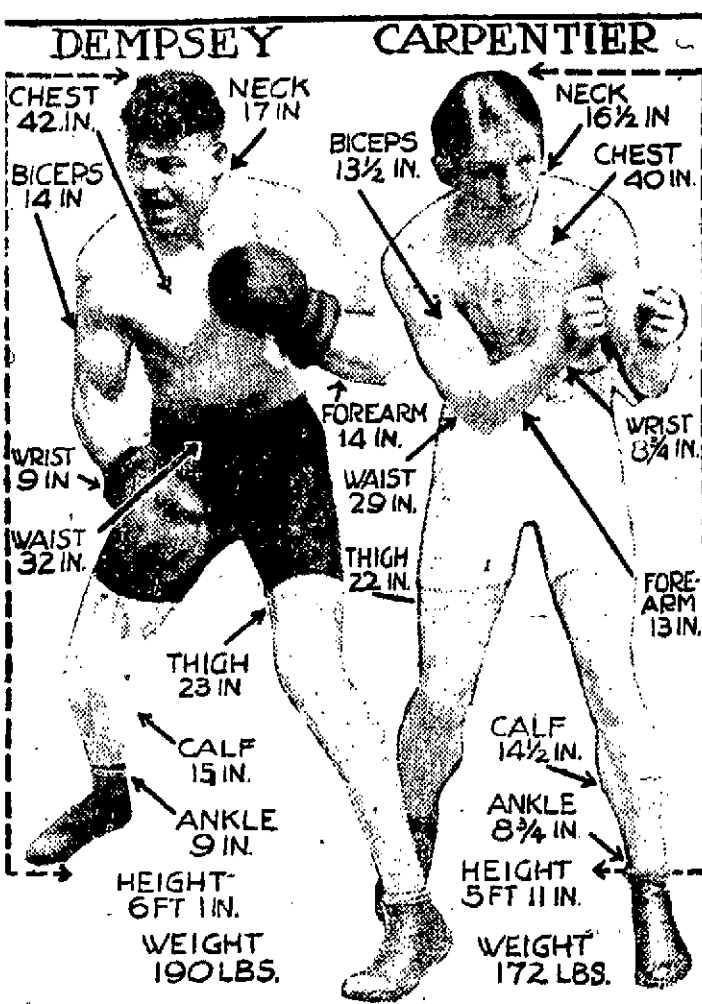

Placing odds on the big fight depends on whether you have French ancestors or not.

LISBON TAKES MINOT GAME BY SCORE OF 8 TO 5

Lisbon, N. D., May 24.—Lisbon defeated Minot in the third and deciding game of a three-game series here 8 to 5, staging a four run rally in the eighth inning. Two home runs by Lovell and Mine helped the Lisbon nine score in the eighth inning rally. ## HOW THE FIGHTERS COMPARE

JACK TRIES TO WRESTLE AND IS A FAILURE

Walked Forty Miles to Silverton to Engage in Battle

This story of Jack Dempsey's career has been written for the Tribune by Hal Cochran on information much of which was furnished by Dempsey himself. The rest was obtained from Dempsey's close acquaintances and official records.

Chapter 3. Andy Malloy held no malice toward Jack Dempsey because the latter had knocked him out. Rather, he saw a bright future for the husky slugger, and arranged a match for him with Ben Parrish at Olathe, Colo.

When Dempsey arrived, ready to put on the mitts, Parrish suddenly had a change of mind. He guessed he wouldn't fight—but he'd take Jack on in a wrestling match.

There was little or nothing jangling in Jack's jeans at the time and he readily agreed to go to the mat. "It was anything to pick up some odd change," says Jack.

Wrestling Career Ends. He recalls that he was about as much at home on a wrestling canvas, as a jungle tiger in front of a fire place. It took Parrish just 18 minutes to flop him the first time and a lot less the second time. Jack dropped down $10, but decided that a boxer had no business in the wrestling game.

Dempsey's next trip was to Cripple Creek, Colo.—via freight. He was matched to battle with George Copeland. Many miners turned out for the bout and Copeland, being fairly well known as a battler, looked a sure winner.

Jack surprised the crowd by putting over the steep punch in the seventh round.

Several smaller bouts turned up here and there, but they paid but little. Jack worked as a miner in between scraps.

The next real bout was staged at Durango, Colo., with Andy Malloy. It was a 20-round affair and ended in a draw.

Walks 40 Miles to Fight. After this battle Jack hoofed it to Salt Lake and then to Silverton—40 miles away—to engage in another battle. Then he returned to Montrose and worked on a farm as a peach picker.

The Dempsey family had moved again, this time to Salt Lake City. Jack had a habit of running back home, every now and then, to stick his feet under the old family table. He shortly grabbed a rattler and beat it for home.

Salt Lake, at this time was quite a center of flistic doings. Dempsey discovered this and drifted into Hardy Downey's athletic club.

There were several bouts in progress and after eyeing a few, Jack asked permission to step into the arena with some bird.

Downey turned two brothers loose on him, one at a time. Jack knocked the first one cold in one round and then repeated on the second.

Spurns Medal. Downey was much impressed with the new comer's ability. He offered Jack a nice medal.

"Nix!" said Jack. "Come through with some coin."

After much argument he got $2.50—$1.25 per K. O.

There were many other fighters who hung around this club and Dempsey was a regular customer for a long time afterwards. He got a lot of training through mixing with heavyweights and middleweights, and was finally matched to meet the star of the club.

Then Dempsey got the surprise of his flistic career!

In the next story Dempsey pulls down $25 for a defeat, a draw and a knockout, all with the same scrapper.

CARPENTIER IS NOT AFFECTED BY CHANGE RATE

Paris, May 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Georges Carpentier and his manager Francois Descamps, will not be affected by any fall in the rate of exchange on the dollar against the franc as regards their end of the purse for the forthcoming world's heavyweight championship fight between Carpentier and Jack Dempsey.

According to a signed article by a sporting writer in La Liberté, Carpentier and Descamps have paid 100,000 francs premium against the dollar receding in value. Lloyd's, the writer says, has agreed to cash their dollars at fifteen francs each.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 24.—Teams in the South Dakota baseball league bravely played their first Sunday game, though the South Dakota supreme court has ruled that Sunday games are illegal if admission is charged.

The local grounds were thrown open to the public but a charge was made for seats in the grandstands and bleachers. Approximately 500 spectators paid this charge while hundreds of "conscientious" on-lookers took advantage of the free exhibition and stood on the side lines.

Nelson for Sioux Falls held Water town to one hit, the Sioux winning one to nothing.

Farmers Will Take Over Most of Consumers' Stores

Fargo, N. D., May 24.—Farmers in North Dakota will take over almost all of the 27 cooperatively owned stores of the United States Consumers Stores Company and operate them as independent cooperative units, according to G. W. Reichert, receiver. The company went into receivership this spring. One of the reasons given was that crop failures prevented farmer stockholders from paying for their stock.

Farmers in 31 of the communities in which these stores are located have already organized local cooperative companies and have arranged to take them over. Only three of the stores have been definitely abandoned, Mr. Reichert said.

Milk producers living near Minot hope to continue the United States Creamery there as a cooperative project as that creamery has been paying from 4 to 5 cents per pound, more than privately owned creameries pay, he added.

The affairs of the stores company as a whole will probably be settled before the end of the year, provided crops in the state are good and a fair number of stockholders are able to pay money due on their stock in the organization, the receiver said. The money remaining when all debts are paid will be divided among paid up stock holders.

Books show the assets to be $1,001,801 as compared to liabilities of $299,866, but allowance must be made for a great amount of shrinkage in the assets, Mr. Reichert said. More than $600,000 of the assets are in unpaid notes of the former stockholders.

Mrs. Orthwein Placed On Trial For Murder

Chicago, May 24.—Mrs. Cora Isabelle Orthwein, who was placed on trial today, shot and killed Herbert Zeigler, manager of the local branch of an automobile tire company, in her apartment early in the morning of March 29, 1921. When arrested she maintained that she shot in self defense.

Mrs. Orthwein had been acquainted with Zeigler for some time, she told the police. After her divorce from Jack O'Connor, former manager of the St. Louis American league baseball team, and later from Philip Orthwein, part owner of the club, she came to Chicago and became acquainted with the man she killed.

Mrs. Orthwein lived in a fashionable apartment in an exclusive north side residential section. Zeigler had a key to the apartment, she told the police. She declared that before his death he had become addicted to liquor and frequently came to the apartment under its influence.

The night of the shooting, she said, Zeigler had been out with another woman. She obtained this information from a girl friend, she said.

Early in the morning, Mrs. Orthwein told the police, she heard Zeigler at the door. She said she refused to admit him because he was intoxicated.

poses to proceed with the construction immediately and if possible have the pool and bath house ready for use during the latter part of the summer. The cost, it is estimated, will be between $12,000 and $15,000.

As planned the pool will have dimensions of 200x150 feet. The bath house will be most complete, with a porch 37x20 feet, offices, baths, etc. It is the intention to have the pool serve as a skating rink in the winter time.

TO ERECT SHRINE FOR FIRST MARTYR

Concordia, Kan., May 24.—A shrine to the memory of the Franciscan friar, Fray Juan Padilla, believed to have been the first Christian martyr in what is now the United States probably will be erected by Bishop Francis Tiet, new head of the Concordia diocese, in the approximate spot where the pioneer monk was murdered by Indians nearly 400 years ago, in the vicinity of Junction City, Kan.

"If the spot where Fray Juan Padilla was slain, or better yet, his grave, can be located, I intend to have a monument and bronze tablet placed there," said the bishop.

Padilla is believed to have returned to Quivira (now Kansas), following the expedition conducted by the Spanish explorer, Francisco Vasquez de Coronado in 1542, in search of the "seven cities" which Francis, an missionaries had reported existed in Quivira. The route taken by Coronado through Kansas has been fairly accurately traced by historians in eleven central Kansas counties.

Residents of Lindsay and vicinity, in McPherson county, are identifying Coronado Heights, named for the Spanish explorer who is said to have conducted his expedition to the crest of this mountainous like formation for observation purposes. Automobile drives have been constructed to the top and a rest house built there. This year these have been set out and it is the intention to mark the spot one of historic interest for tourists. The elevation has attracted geologists from all parts of the country because its chalk like formation has yielded the skeletons of many valuable prehistoric animals.

Three Motors to a Mile of Road

In the United States there are three motor vehicles for every mile of highway, and this includes all our unimproved roads.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads estimates that the vehicle use of the public roads in the agricultural districts has increased 600 percent during the past 5 years; also that 15 percent of the main highway traffic is carried by motor truck.

Roads built even 10 years ago were not intended to withstand the impact of modern motor vehicles passing in a steady stream. The modern road must be built to withstand this tremendous shock.

For years the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been producing material which has been used to provide many miles of roads throughout the Middle West with cushion tops of paving asphalt—protecting the highways of town and country against the mighty shocks of modern traffic.

Good roads are a prime essential to national prosperity. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in creating a road covering of proved quality, is playing a vital part in the development of the Middle West.

Stanolind Paving Asphalt is refined from petroleum by distillation with steam agitation. It is an asphaltic cement of the very highest quality. It was developed to conform to the needs of the modern highway as determined by highway engineers working under actual road conditions in the Middle West.

In working out problems of highway construction to meet modern conditions, the Company is prepared to cooperate with any corporation, or engineer, engaged in road construction.

In the production of Stanolind Paving Asphalt, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has added one more useful product to the long list of its achievements.

Stanolind Paving Asphalt in itself is essentially useful, and by reason of its manufacture as a by-product of petroleum, the Company has been able to hold down the cost of manufacture of Red Crown Gasoline, Perfection Kerosene, Polarine Lubricating Oils, and other major products, without disturbing their high quality, thereby exerting a deterrent influence on increasing the selling price of these products, which accrues directly to your individual benefit.
